

EAST LOTHIAN FIRM LEADS THE WAY OUT OF THE RECESSION

b:spoke joinery and manufacturing specialists – who moved their creative company to larger premises on EskMills Business Park in Musselburgh in early 2009 – have taken an innovative step in the current recession and come up with an ingenious space management plan to generate economic growth and expansion potential for local existing businesses or new 2010 start ups, particularly from the SME sector.

The company has developed unique/cost effective office space and in an industry first - have elected to give it away for FREE. This direct collaborative approach has been decided upon in order to generate unprecedented business opportunity through the concept of a 'hub' where all partners/stakeholders will be able to network, share business practice and expand their client base.

Phil Green - Managing Director of 2 successful companies and resident in Musselburgh, stated simply "I want to give small businesses the opportunity to grow, I know from experience how expensive it can be starting out and if I can help some people along the way then - all the better. I am looking forward to the EH21 Creative Hub becoming a synergistic resource centre for entrepreneurs which, will in turn offer a significant contribution to the local economy"

WANTED ... creative sector entrepreneurs, from the following categories to make use of our office space for free: 3D Designers, Architects, Media Consultants, Graphic Designers and Event Production Specialists.

Simply Call 0131 665 4508/07920 041 981 or email fraser@b-spoke.com for a chat, mention the EH21 Creative Hub and arrange a visit!

End of release.

Editors Notes:

b:spoke specialises in trade show stand, interior refurbishment and retail special builds, manufacturing all in-house in their new 22,000(2) ft premises at the Musselburgh Business Park just outside Edinburgh.

They work with architects, designers and direct to many blue chip clients. For the 'Andy Warhol' summer show at The National Galleries of Scotland the company produced a historic marketing campaign, manufacturing 24 GIANT Campbell's soup tins acclaiming world press interest! The company work on a local and international basis and love working on exciting creative projects!

Phillip Green, Director, has been a joiner since the age of 14, he now has 2 large businesses. Definitely a character that you couldn't forget Phil strives to help anybody where he can, developing his own business along the route! It is company policy to 'Do your best, Work your hardest + love life!'

Director Philip Green

Contact tel: 0131 665 4508

Company website www.b-spoke.com

translate scotland media002